1. INTRODUCTION

- a) Middlesex University is committed to operating in an ethical way in every area to ensure the highest possible standards of decision-making and accountability (MU Ethics Framework Statement 2014).
- b) The University Strategy (2031) has been developed to ensure our students learn about and develop a professional and ethically informed skillset based on fundamental values and principles such as trust, honesty and integrity. This is because being able to work in a professional and ethical way is a highly valued graduate attribute. As part of this development it is fundamental that our students know how to learn from and acknowledge others' work in the process of creating their own unique pieces of academic work – and to be truthful about their own contribution.
- c) The University recognises that academic integrity is a set of learned skills, with honesty, fairness and respect for others and their work at the core. The university will support and guide students to learn the necessary skills through education and reinforcement of learning, the promotion of core values, enabling policies and the appropriate use of technology.
- d) In order to demonstrate academic integrity, students must produce their own work, acknowledging explicitly any material that has been included from other sources or legitimate collaboration. Students must also present their own findings, conclusions or data based on appropriate and ethical practice.
- e) It is a student's responsibility to familiarise themselves with the academic conventions and practices applicable to the course on which they are registered. It will be the responsibility of students to ensure that the work they submit for assessment is entirely their own, or in the case of group-work the group's own and that they observe all Regulations, Procedures and instructions governing examinations.
- f) It is the responsibility of each individual student when submitting an assessment item to ensure that the work which they are submitting is the work which they wish to be assessed.
- g) Students must have ethical approval for their project/dissertation which cannot be gained retrospectively. Failure to do so may result in failure of the work. Refer to the programme and/or module handbook for details regarding requirements for ethical approval.
- h) Academic misconduct is a breach of the values of academic integrity and can occur when a student cheats in an assessment or attempts to deliberately mislead an examiner that the work presented is their own when it is not. It includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism, commissioning or buying work from a third party or copying the work of others.
- i) If a third party or anonymous whistle-blower reports that there has been academic misconduct by a student of the University, the University may decide to investigate the allegations.

- j) Regulations Section F deal with breaches of academic integrity through instances of academic misconduct. It will take action against any student who contravened these regulations through negligence, foolishness or deliberate intent in any form of assessment.
- k) This procedure is concerned with the actions of students and not their intentions. An excuse of “not intending to” is not an acceptable defence.
- l) Where students are registered on awards which lead to professional registration and there is Fitness to Practise requirements, a major offence may be referred to an appropriate Fitness to Practice Committee for consideration.
- m) In all cases of alleged academic misconduct and cheating, students will be treated as innocent until a case against them has been investigated and upheld.
- n) A finding that academic misconduct has occurred is a judgement based on available evidence, the standard of proof being the balance of probability.
- o) These procedures should be read in conjunction with the Regulations - (Section F) for Academic Integrity and Misconduct.

2. AIMS AND PURPOSE

This policy is designed to support staff and students to embed good practice and develop methods for enhancing Academic Integrity and its aims are to:

- a) ensure fair and equal treatment of all students when considering whether academic integrity has been breached.
- b) make clear the types of behaviours that are considered to be academic misconduct.
- c) set out the penalties for academic misconduct and cheating
- d) describe the procedures by which allegations of academic misconduct and cheating will be investigated and determined
- e) create a culture of enhancement seeking to learn from cases of academic misconduct and improve the student experience including through appropriate detection training for decision-makers.
- f) ensure clarity in language and process.
- g) uphold fairness, consistency and natural justice in the treatment of the student body as a whole.
- h) maintain awareness through collaboration with support services (academic and welfare), targeted local campaigns, and visible and accessible central information highlighted to students at relevant key points in the academic year.

3. PRINCIPLES

The following principles underpin Middlesex's approach to Academic Integrity (Regulations Section F):

- a) The University treats the decision as to whether minor errors, poor academic practice or unfair and/or dishonest academic misconduct has taken place as a matter for academic judgement¹ and the penalties applied (see Table at F5) will vary according to the individual case and the seriousness of the offence.
- b) This policy and procedures apply to all work submitted for the undergraduate, postgraduate taught and postgraduate research degree programmes and will include all assessment items and for research students will include the research proposal, transfer document, thesis submitted for examination, and published Thesis
- c) Cases of plagiarism at all levels due to poor referencing, paraphrasing and unintentional mistakes in the form and frequency of citations in text where deception does not appear to be the intention will be considered as Poor Academic Practice and marked accordingly.
- d) The University complies fully with the Concordat to Support Research Integrity. Research students are also subject to the University Code of Practice for Research.
- e) Taught Students will be registered on the on-line Student Success Essentials course which includes sections addressing academic integrity and misconduct. Students should aim to complete this course before the end of the first year of study. The course is available on myLearning.
- f) Research students will complete the research development programme (which includes sessions addressing researcher integrity and ethics).
- g) The University recognises that undergraduate students (Levels 3 & 4) who are new to Higher Education may need some time to learn how to acknowledge sources properly. Therefore, it operates an 'academic writing induction period' during which the focus of the University's response to signs of academic misconduct is to educate students in regard to appropriate academic practice and academic integrity rather than to penalise unacceptable academic practice. This applies to plagiarism and collusion (except collusion in an online examination only). It does not apply to other forms of academic misconduct where penalties will immediately apply. The academic induction period does not apply to any reassessment.
- h) Students will be required to accept a statement on myLearning which confirms that they will not plagiarise; self-plagiarise; copy material; embellish, fabricate or falsify any data; nor will they collude in producing any work nor submit commissioned or procured work for any assessments.

- i) If academic misconduct is suspected in relation to work submitted by a student, in the interest of helping students to avoid continued acts, cases should be investigated as soon as possible.
- j) Cases of suspected academic misconduct should be evidenced and documented before the appropriate procedure is instigated. Where appropriate a Viva should be conducted to demonstrate the student's understanding of the subject matter.
- k) Taught students will receive notification from the marker that their work is under investigation for Academic Misconduct in place of a provisional grade for the work submitted. A Holding Grade of U will be recorded in the student record.
- l) Research students will be notified that progression is suspended pending the outcome of the investigation.

4. ALLEGATIONS OF ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT (THIRD PARTY REPORTING)

- a) Third parties include (a) students of the University (current or former students) reporting misconduct by another student, or (b) members of the public or (c) anonymous reporters.
- b) If a third-party reports that there has been academic misconduct by a student of the University, the University may decide to investigate the allegations, taking into account the nature of the academic misconduct, any evidence provided by the reporting third party together with any other supporting evidence obtained from sources independent of the reporting third party.
- c) The University will not (unless the law permits) report any details about the investigation undertaken and the outcome of the investigation to the reporting third party, as such information will include the personal information of other individuals including of the student who is being investigated, and such information must remain confidential to comply with Data Protection law, and other duties of confidentiality that the University may have in relation to the student being investigated and other individuals.
- d) If a reporting third party insists on remaining anonymous, the University may not be able to rely on the anonymous information as evidence of academic misconduct, as under the data protection legislation and other legal rights that protect individuals faced with allegations against them, the accused person will have a right to know what information others hold about them and how they obtained such information as this is information relating to them and is therefore their personal data.
- e) If a reporting third party consents to their identity being disclosed to the student who has allegedly committed academic misconduct, we may consider any precautionary measures that may be needed to be put in place to safeguard the reporting person or anyone else involved, in consultation with the individuals to be safeguarded.

- f) If we cannot investigate an anonymous report, we may use the information to better understand the issues impacting our community to understand trends and inform proactive preventive work.

5. DEFINITIONS OF TYPES OF ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Academic misconduct (cheating and unethical practices) in assessments is where a student gains, seeks, attempts or intends to gain advantage in relation to assessments or to aid another to gain such an advantage by unfair or improper means.

a) Minor Errors/Poor Academic Practice

Minor errors arise when a student has attempted to adopt academically acceptable practices but has failed to do so accurately or fully, producing work that is unduly derivative or which fails to recognise sources. Examples include forgetting to insert quotation marks, minor mistakes in referencing or citation, gaps in the bibliography or reference list, non-compliance with some aspects of presentation guidelines. Work will be marked down for an over-reliance on external sources or for being overly derivative.

b) Cheating in examinations or tests

Breaching the Examination Room Rules for Candidates (Section K). This includes assessments that are taken 'in-class', on-line or any other form of summative examination.

c) Collusion

Collusion occurs when, unless with official approval (e.g. in the case of group projects), two or more students consciously collaborate in the preparation and production of work which is ultimately submitted by each in an identical or substantially similar form and/or is represented by each to be the product of his or her individual efforts. Examinations and Online timed assessments that contain similar work will be referred as collusion. Collusion also occurs where there is unauthorised cooperation between a student and another person in the preparation and production of work which is presented as the student's own. This includes when one student produces work and allows another student to copy it - both students will be culpable. If both students submit the work in the same submission period, even at different times, both students will be deemed to have colluded.

Collusion can also be the act of one student presenting a piece of work as their own independent work when the work was undertaken by a group. With group work, where individual members submit parts of the total assignment, each member of a group must take responsibility for checking the legitimacy of the work submitted in their name. If even part of the work is found to contain academic misconduct, penalties will normally be imposed on all group members equally.

Peer review of each other's work or discussing an assignment can be helpful; however, students should be wary of falling into an act of collusion by actually producing/writing parts of an assignment for their peer/friend or giving them access to the work.

d) Copying

Copying occurs when a student consciously presents as their own work material copied directly from a fellow student or other person without their knowledge. It includes the passing off of another's intellectual property, not in the public domain, as one's own. It differs from collusion in that the originator of the copied work is not aware of or party to the copying. Copying of work from published sources would be dealt with as plagiarism.

e) Dishonest Use of Data: Fabricating or falsifying data or using without permission another person's work

Fabricating or falsifying data to include presenting work that has not taken place. This includes laboratory reports or projects based on experimental or field work. It may also include falsifying attendance sheets for placements where this is part of the assessment requirements.

f) Requirement for Ethical Approval

Failure to gain ethical approval through the University's ethical approval processes prior to beginning research, or where the student makes a major deviation from any approved research without gaining additional ethical approval, may result in failure of the work. Refer to the programme and/or module handbook for details regarding requirements for ethical approval.

g) False declarations

False declarations presented in order to receive special consideration by Assessment Boards, including deferrals and requests for exemption from work.

h) Plagiarism - Passing off someone else's work, whether intentionally or unintentionally, as your own

Plagiarism occurs when a student misrepresents, as their own work, work in the public domain, written or otherwise, of any other person (including another student) or of any institution. Examples of forms of plagiarism include:

- the verbatim (word for word) copying of another's work without appropriate and correctly presented acknowledgement and citation of the source
- the close paraphrasing of another's work by simply changing a few words or altering the order of presentation, without appropriate and correctly presented acknowledgement and citation of the source;
 - Sham Paraphrasing: When someone copies text, word for word from a source, references the work but does not place it in quotation marks so it appears to be paraphrased.
 - Illicit paraphrasing: When someone paraphrases text from a source but does not acknowledge the source.

- failure to reference appropriately or to adequately identify the source of material used;
 - Concealing sources: If a student cites a piece of work from a source more than once they must reference it each time. No matter how many times they refer back to the source they must acknowledge the source, even if it is in the very next paragraph
 - Fake Referencing: To make up quotations and/or supply fake citations. The fake citation can be either completely fabricated or reference a real source (book, journal, or Web site) which contains no such article or words that have supposedly been used or to imply that books and/or journals have been used by copying citations from the work of other authors when they have not.
 - Secondary referencing: To mention someone's work which has been referred to in a document a student has read, even though the student hasn't read the original piece of work themselves. When a student compiles their reference list students must only include the document(s) read by the student.
- the deliberate and detailed presentation of another's concept as one's own.

i) Self-Plagiarism

Self-plagiarism is when a student submits the same piece of work, or a substantial part thereof, for assessment more than once for graded credit without acknowledging what they are doing by citing the original content. It will be regarded as Self-plagiarism unless the original piece of work is appropriately referenced.

j) Purchasing or Commissioning

Purchasing or commissioning is either attempting to purchase or purchasing work for an assessment including, for example from the internet, or attempting to commission, or commissioning someone else to complete an assessment. Essay mills are now illegal entities, and use of them is facilitating an illegal activity.

For assessments at all levels, the commissioning of proof-reading where this substantially alters the content of the original work, whether this is from a commercial provider or a personal contact, falls under this definition and is considered academic misconduct.

7. PROCEDURES

A. Initial Procedures

1 Formal written examinations:

- a) Where an invigilator suspects a candidate of infringing examination room rules (section K) they shall, if possible, in the presence of another invigilator to act as witness to the action taken:
 - i. Confiscate any unauthorised material in the possession of the candidate;
 - ii. endorse the candidate's script on the front cover with a note of the time when the alleged infringement is discovered. In the case of suspected collusion, they should endorse the script of each candidate involved. Wherever possible they should require another invigilator to act as witness by countersigning the endorsement;
 - iii. issue a new examination script booklet to the candidate(s) in question, clearly instructing them to continue (not to restart) the examination;
 - iv. inform the candidate(s) in question, at the end of the examination, that a report of the incident will be submitted to the Academic Misconduct Team;

² Throughout this policy the role of Secretary to Academic Board may be delegated to a senior manager (normally the Deputy Academic Registrar) reporting directly to the Secretary to Academic Board.

- v. complete an Infringement of Exam Rules Report detailing the incident, giving the opportunity to the student to comment on the report, and both invigilator and student sign and date it.
 - vi. enter details of the incident on the invigilator's report;
 - vii. report the allegation to Academic Misconduct Team (via the Student Office) for processing.
- b) Where an internal examiner suspects a candidate of infringing examination room rules they shall:
- i. Complete an AIM Referral form detailing the alleged infringement, with evidence to support the allegation;
 - ii. report the allegation to the Quality Office for processing.

2 Formal timed online Assessments

- a) Where an internal examiner suspects a candidate of infringing online examination rules (Section K) they shall report the allegation to the Academic Misconduct Team for processing:
- i. Complete an AIM Referral form detailing the alleged infringement, with evidence to support the allegation;
 - ii. report the allegation to the Academic Integrity Tutor for review.
 - In the case of suspected collusion mark up the papers to show the similarities, and where available provide the Turnitin report.
 - In the case of suspected plagiarism provide the external sources.

3 Assessed coursework (including oral examinations, exhibitions, performances, assignments):

- a) Where an internal or external examiner suspects a candidate of poor academic practice (Category A) due to poor referencing, paraphrasing and unintentional mistakes in the form and frequency of citations in text where deception does not appear to be the intention, the work should be marked taking into account over reliance on external sources, and the student should be given feedback and support and guidance, along with written advice of where they can seek help (eg Learning Enhancement Team) with referencing etc.
- b) Where an internal or external examiner suspects a candidate of contravening the regulations in assessed coursework beyond the level of poor academic practice, they shall, where appropriate:
- i. Complete an AIM Referral form, detail the location of any plagiarised passages or evidence of collusion and append sources where appropriate;
 - ii. Discuss the allegation with the Departmental Academic Integrity Tutor (AIT) to see if it should be treated as poor academic practice or referred to Academic Registry
- c) Where an internal examiner identifies a candidate has not secured ethical approval

they will refer the student to the Faculty Ethics Committee for investigation (See H4)

4 Retrospective allegations of Academic Misconduct

Exceptionally, where serious academic misconduct is discovered after the deadline for submission of an allegation of academic misconduct, an allegation may be pursued retrospectively under these procedures. Where a student has already graduated, the outcome may result in the revoking of a qualification already awarded.

B. Initial Review by Academic Integrity Tutor (AIT)

1. If the AIT determines the work referred to them for review should be treated as a case of Poor Academic Practice (Category A), the work should be returned to the Module Coordinator and marked (taking into account over-reliance on external sources), and the student should be given feedback, support and guidance by the Module Coordinator, along with written advice of where they can seek help (eg Centre for Academic Success Team) with referencing etc
2. If the AIT confirms Category B – D misconduct the case should be referred to the Quality Office for investigation (see C below). The deadline by which evidence supporting an allegation of academic misconduct should normally be submitted by Departments no more than one month after the completion date for that component of assessment.

Please note: If a viva voce assessment of the student is considered appropriate before an allegation is reported to the Quality Office, it must not be treated as a formal hearing to consider academic misconduct. However, non-attendance, without good reason, will be interpreted as acceptance of academic misconduct. If a student does not attend, or admits to academic misconduct during a viva meeting, the case will be referred to Academic Registry for confirmation of the allegation to the student, and applications of the appropriate penalty.

C. Referral to Academic Registry

To proceed with an investigation into an allegation of academic misconduct the following, where appropriate, should be submitted by the AIT or Faculty Leadership Office to the Academic Misconduct Team no more than one month after the completion date for that component of the assessment:

1. For Written Examinations
 - a. the student(s)'s name and number;
 - b. a report of the incident; (use the Form: Academic Misconduct Allegation)
 - c. the invigilator's report;
 - d. originals of scripts involved in the alleged infringement of examination room rules;

- e. copy or original of unauthorised material used in an examination;

2. For all other Assessments

- a. Completed Academic Integrity & Misconduct (AIM) Referral Form
- b. Copy/original work with plagiarised passages marked;
- c. copy of source material with passages which have been plagiarised marked;
- d. summary of any informal interview with the student regarding the incident (it is preferred that no interview (excluding a Viva) takes place before a written allegation is put to the candidate by the Secretary to Academic Board);
- e. notes of any viva that has taken place (eg for confirmation of the originality of the work).
- f. copy of the instructions given to the candidate regarding the component and a copy of the referencing instructions given to the candidate;

D. Procedure for Investigation by the Academic Misconduct Team

1. As soon as reasonably practicable following receipt of any allegation and supporting documentation, the Academic Misconduct Team shall decide if there are reasonable grounds at first sight to suggest the candidate contravened assessment regulations.
2. If the Academic Misconduct Team determines there are no reasonable grounds, they shall request the Module Leader to consider the work on its academic merits and remove all record of the alleged misconduct from the student's record.
3. If the Academic Misconduct Team determines there are reasonable grounds to suggest the candidate has contravened the regulations in assessment, they shall write to the student(s) concerned:
 - a. To put the allegation.
 - b. If appropriate, to enclose copies of any evidence or report.
 - c. To request a written statement to explain how the allegation may have arisen, stating any mitigating circumstances which may be taken into account when considering a penalty (authenticated evidence to be provided where appropriate).
 - d. To request a reply within 10 working days of the date on which the letter is sent and explaining the consequences of failure to reply.
 - e. To refer to guidance notes on Unihub and the MDXSU Student Support Service
4. A holding grade of U (allegation of academic misconduct under investigation) should be entered by the Academic Misconduct Officer on the student's module record (for cross- reference with other alleged infringements).

E. Consideration of Student Response

1. If a written reply to the allegation is not received from the student within 10 working days of the date on which the letter is sent, or if the student replies accepting the allegation, the Academic Misconduct Team shall report accordingly to the Secretary to Academic Board and recommend an appropriate penalty. The outcome and penalty will be processed according to Section G Outcome of an Investigation.
2. If the student does reply within the time limit denying the allegation the Secretary to the Academic Board will consider the allegation in light of the student's response and in consultation with appropriate members of staff to decide whether to dismiss the allegation or to proceed to consideration by a panel.
 - a. A student denying the allegation will be given the opportunity to select that the allegation and their defence to it are heard by a panel via:
 - i. written representations; or
 - ii. in person at a Panel of Investigation hearing (which may be held electronically).

F. Panel to investigate the allegation of academic misconduct

1. Following E2ai above a monthly panel meeting which shall consist of at least four members of staff (one from each faculty) drawn from Senior staff of the University – including Deputy Deans; Heads of Department; Directors of Programmes; Programme Leaders; Academic Integrity Tutors, and Research Leads together with one member from MDXSU, will consider the responses of students who have denied the allegations against them and selected to have their written representations considered by a panel.
 - a) The panel shall consider the evidence provided by the tutors and the student relating to the allegation and determine, on the balance of probabilities, whether the allegation should be upheld or dismissed.
 - b) The outcome of the panel, including any recommended sanction, will be reported to the Secretary to Academic Board and processed according to Section G Outcome of an Investigation
2. Following E2aii above the Secretary to Academic Board (or nominee) shall convene a Panel of Investigation which shall consist of two members of staff drawn from Senior staff of the University – including Deputy Deans; Heads of Department; Directors of Programmes; Programme Leaders; Academic Integrity Tutors and Research leads, together with one member from MDXSU to meet with the student to hear their case. The hearing may take place in person or electronically.
 - a) Staff involved in the referral of the student shall be required to attend as witnesses.
 - b) The Chair of the Panel shall be the Secretary to Academic Board or a nominee (e.g. AIT from another Faculty).
 - c) No member of staff who has been involved in teaching or assessing the student

- shall be eligible to serve.
- d) The student will be given 5 working days' notice, wherever possible, of the date, time, place and membership of the panel, together with any documents to be consulted.
 - e) The student may object to the appointment of members and to the date giving grounds for the objection. However, any change to the arrangement is solely at the discretion of the Chair.
 - f) Due notice of the Panel meeting will be considered to have been given on sending the notice and supporting information to the student's University email address, or last registered personal email address for students who are no longer enrolled.
 - g) The meeting may proceed in the absence of a student who has either a) indicated an intention to attend and does not attend, b) never responded to communications; or c) indicated they do not wish to attend. The Chair should be content that there is sufficient evidence available to consider the case and that the student has been given adequate notice of the meeting and an opportunity to provide a written submission.
3. All proceedings and papers associated with the meeting shall be strictly confidential to those invited to attend.
 4. The student shall have the right to be accompanied by a companion, who will be a member of the University (i.e. a registered student, a staff member or a member of staff of MDXSU) and to submit oral or written evidence to the meeting. Legal representation is not allowed at a Panel meeting.
 5. Procedure for the Panel of Investigation in session
 - a) The Panel of Investigation may not be held in the absence of the Secretary to the Academic Board or their nominee.
 - b) The Chair has the discretion to organise the meeting as they see fit in order to achieve the principal aims of a hearing:
 - i) to clarify evidence as necessary by questioning those who have submitted it;
 - ii) to enable the student to dispute the allegation;
 - iii) to enable the Panel to reach a decision.
 6. Mechanical, electrical, or electronic recording by any means shall be prohibited, except where the meeting is held online, where a recording may be taken in case of any technical issues for any panel members. The recording shall be deleted once the panel has reached a conclusion on the case.
 7. The Panel shall consider its decision in private after the evidence has been heard and shall reach a decision by majority vote, in the light of the evidence presented and on the balance of probabilities, whether the student infringed assessment regulations. Panel members are only concerned with the actions of the student, not their intentions. If the votes cast are equal, the Chair shall have a second or casting vote.

8. The student and their companion shall normally be recalled for the Chair to inform them of the decision of the Panel, which will then be sent to the student, with a report of the hearing, normally within 5 working days of the panel.
9. Where the penalty involves awarding a lower qualification, expulsion or revoking an award, the Secretary to Academic Board will
 - a) make a recommendation to the Academic Dean (or nominee) and;
 - b) record the decision of the Academic Dean (or nominee) and;
 - c) will be responsible for communicating the decision to the student, normally within 5 working days of the panel.

G. Outcome of an Investigation

1. Where an allegation of academic misconduct is not sustained following investigation, the work shall be assessed on its academic merit, and all record of the alleged misconduct shall be removed from the student's record.
2. Where an allegation of academic misconduct is sustained, either by admission of the student or following investigation:
 - a) For Category B and C offences, where the penalty does not involve retaking a module, the Secretary to Academic Board has delegated authority of the Programme Assessment Board to apply the standard penalty.
 - b) For Category B and C offences where the penalty involves retaking a module the programme team will advise which module, if any, should be re-registered. The Secretary to Academic Board has delegated authority of the Programme Assessment Board to apply the standard penalty and will include module information when applying the standard penalty.
 - c) For Category D offences where the penalty involves awarding a lower qualification, expulsion or revoking an award, the Secretary to Academic Board will make a recommendation to the Academic Dean (or nominee) and will be responsible for communicating the decision to the student, copied to the appropriate Academic.
 - d) Any reassessment following the Assessment Board's decision to fail the student in one or more units of assessment shall be at the absolute discretion of the Assessment board under the programme assessment regulations.
3. The Secretary to Academic Board will report all decisions to Assurance Committee for recording and monitoring purposes.
4. A student may appeal against the decision to impose a penalty. Such an appeal will be made through the established appeal procedures for a) taught programmes or b) research programmes and must be received by the Secretary to Academic Board within 10 working days of the decision being issued. The only subsequent involvement of the Secretary to Academic Board will be to refer the appeal for decision to a senior member of staff with appropriate academic background, outside the Faculty/School to which the student belongs.

- a) Normally an appeal may be made on the following grounds:
 - i. That there is new and relevant evidence which the student was demonstrably and for the most exceptional reasons unable to present to the Secretary to Academic Board or Panel of Investigation meeting.
 - ii. That the procedures were not complied with in such a way that it might cause reasonable doubt as to whether the result would have been different had they been complied with.
 - iii. That there is documented evidence of prejudice or bias on the part of the Secretary to Academic Board or by one or more members of the Panel of Investigation.
 - iv. That the penalty imposed exceeds the maximum penalties listed in Table F5.

H. Guidelines for penalties for Academic Misconduct

- a) The minimum penalty imposed shall normally exceed that which would follow if the student had merely failed the assessment.
- b) The penalties listed must be taken as indicative of the maximum penalties which may be imposed (see Table H).
- c) All confirmed offences for taught programmes must be recorded on the student's record as grade P for the module. This grade to remain throughout the student's registration at Middlesex University and to be replaced on formal documents by grade 20.
- d) All confirmed offences for research programmes will be recorded on the student record and remain throughout the students registration at Middlesex University.
- e) All records of disproved offences must be deleted from the student record.
- f) A student may appeal against the decision of the Assessment Board to impose a penalty. (see G4 above)
- g) If a student submits multiple assessments within a similar timeframe (and will not have had the opportunity to have had feedback) and has made the same type of offence the appropriate penalty will be applied to all the assessments as a simultaneous offence.

Note: All cases will sit on a sliding case of severity. There will be occasions when the misconduct is normally considered minor, but the extent of the deliberation and intention to deceive is such that it fits the criteria of serious misconduct. As a result, the examples given should be used as a guide to help staff identify procedures, but there will always be an element of academic judgement in determining the level of misconduct and the appropriate action to take

H4 Processes and Penalties associated with failure to get ethical approval where it is required.

Where a student carries out research but does not have appropriate ethics approval, they will be referred to the Faculty Research Ethics Committee for investigation.

The investigation will determine the:

- Extent to which the student engaged in the supervisory process;
- Extent to which the supervisor responded to reasonable requests from the student;
- The level of risk of the application (screening form, minimal risk, more than minimal risk, high risk);
 - Low risk (most literature review studies)
 - Minimal risk. (anonymous questionnaires – participants not identified),
 - More than minimal risk (e.g., identifiable participants, interviews, focus groups, sensitive topics, risk of physical/psychological harm, personal data processing etc)
 - High risk (e.g., illegal/harmful activities, cell culture research, gene therapy research, human tissue research etc)
- Whether there is any record of an application (e.g. was a resubmission required but not forthcoming?)

A panel will be convened drawn from the University REC Co-Chairs.

Following investigation, the panel will determine a penalty to be applied by the Module Leader:

- No case to answer – dismissed
- Proceed to marking, but withhold marks that would have been awarded for analysis (as the data was collected inappropriately).
- Fail mark awarded (score of 0%) with resit opportunity. Module mark for resit capped at 16.
